

MATH21B: LINEAR ALGEBRA – LOGISTICS
SPRING 2018, HARVARD UNIVERSITY

Most of the logistics of 21b can be found at <http://sites.fas.harvard.edu/~math21b/>, but below we recall the most important ones and those particular to our section.

1. LOGISTICS

1.1. Contact information. Alexander Kupers (Lecturer)

- Email: kupers@math.harvard.edu.
- Office: Science Center 333I.
- Website: <https://www.math.harvard.edu/~kupers>.

Nicole Kim (Course assistant)

- Email: nicole_kim@college.harvard.edu.

1.2. Course material.

- Text: we shall roughly follow Otto Bretscher, Linear Algebra with Applications but it is not required.
- Worksheets: these shall appear online at <https://www.math.harvard.edu/~kupers/21b/>.

1.3. Meeting times.

- Sections: MWF 11am-12am at SC116.
- Tentative office hours: M 12:45pm–13:45pm and Th 12:30pm–13:30pm, both in 333I.
- Personal meetings: next week, scheduling will happen next section.
- Problem sessions: will be announced on the website.
- Math Question Center: see <http://www.math.harvard.edu/mqc/>.

1.4. Grading.

- Homework: assigned daily, due at the beginning of class. We have a strict no late homework policy, and the lowest three scores will be deleted. You can find the homework at <http://sites.fas.harvard.edu/~math21b/> and I will print copies.
- Exams: two midterm exams and one final exam, dates and times to be confirmed.